Silver-haired performers raise cash for Age Concern

● LEFT: Keith Talbot, Age Concern's chief officer for Basingstoke, receives a cheque for £300 from concert organisers Tracey Kinchenton, George Angliss and Annie Lewendon
Pic by David Beame

MATURE artists were delighted to hand over a cheque for £300 to Age Concern.

The money was the proceeds from an October concert organised by 77-year-old George Angliss together with Tracey Kinchenton and Annie Lewendon.

The concert took place at the Age Concern Basingstoke bazaar at Carnival Hall after Mr Angliss felt older talents should help support the local group.

A variety of stalls raised money for Age Concern. Basingstoke Silver Band entertained the browsers and other charities had their own stalls.

Maria Mitchell, deputy chief officer for Age Concern Basingstoke, said: "It was a good event. We had quite a lot of people through the door."

She said Basingstoke Silver Band will be holding a concert in aid of Age Concern at Carnival Hall on the afternoon of December 16, with tickets available on the door.

George Angliss is local, but uncertain exactly who he is. He was at one time connected to the Tackley Ribbit Legion.

George is in the grey suit, holding the cheque.

Appalled at abandonment

Sir-I was appalled to read about, here in Basingstoke, such behaviour as the abandonment of a child because it has a harelip, and, furthermore, the depraved statement by Mark Beddoes, "It's a choice, the baby or me", to Katherine Penny.

It must be a sign of the times when a child is left in a foreign country to attempt to eradicate its parentage.

I married late, in my 40th year. I dearly loved to create or take part in creating that little miracle and would have still loved a harelip or Down's syndrome baby.

We had a child - a healthy, perfectly-formed son - but I would have had Charlie and loved him just as much.

-Mr G Angliss
