

Arlott

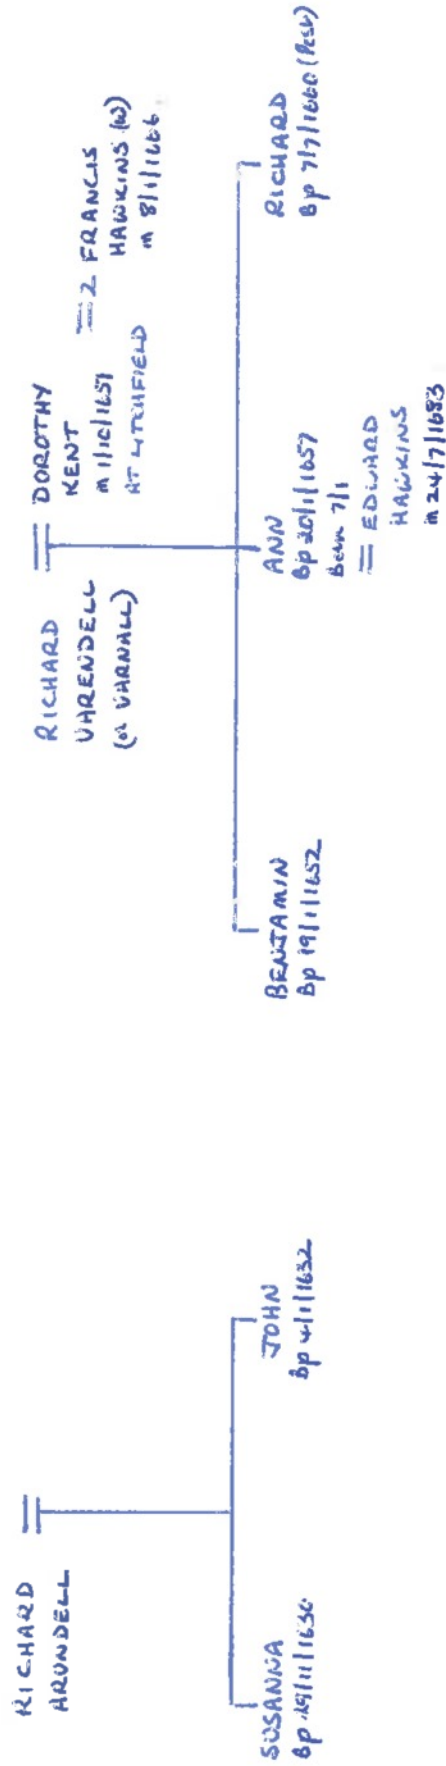

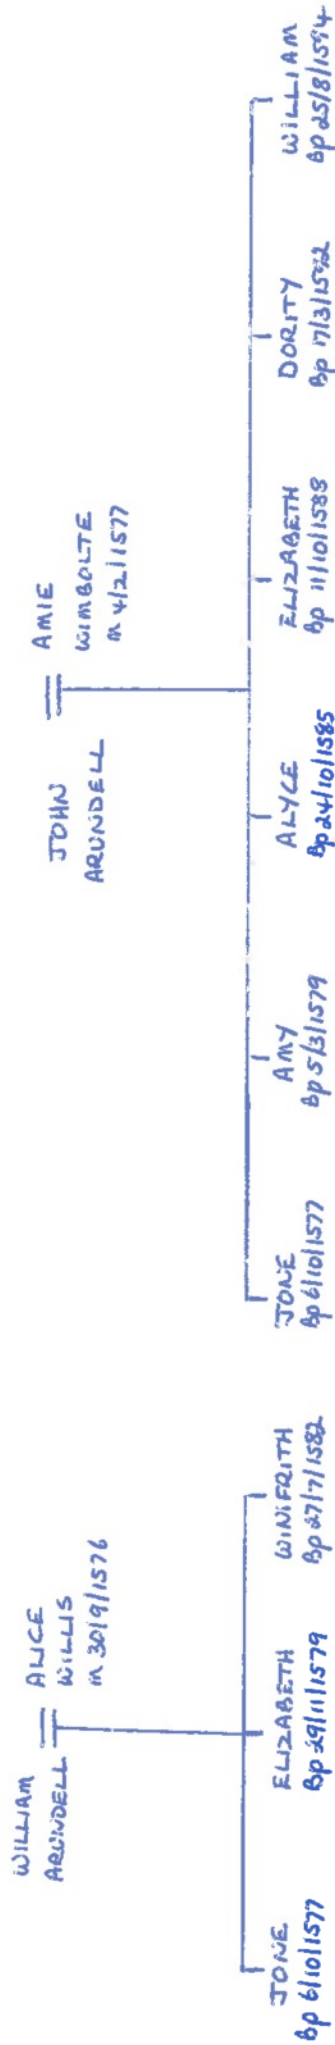

MORE than the relayed
Glories from the crease,
The willow sounds,
The white-clad forms,
He also cherished words
And viewed his county
with a poet's eye.
Born in a Gothic cottage,
Close by the resting place
Of long-flown souls,
John sprang from Hampshire soil.
Loved its deep woods,
Its fragrant meadowland.
Noted the minute miracles
Of leaf and flower,

The path where paws and wings
Carve their inscriptions
Through the woodland ways.
Those earth deep tones,
Throbbing the air waves,
Rich with cricket lore,
Spun webs of verse
With like facility.
John loved the game,
Made clear its mysteries.
Yet while his voice described
Each stroke and move,
Beyond the boundary line
He saw the trees.

Stanley drives on 'phone girl Doreen

WHEN Stanley Baker caught sight of Doreen 50 years ago, he knew she was the one for him.

It was April 1946.

Stanley was a driver at Aldermaston and Doreen was a telephonist for the Civil Aviation Authority there then.

Stanley said: "Doreen was sitting on the grass, and I said to my cousin 'I'm to marry her'—and I did."

The couple were married on Boxing Day later that year at St Mary the Virgin Church, Burghfield.

They renewed their wedding vows there 10 years ago on their ruby anniversary and followed it up with a golden anniversary blessing, upholding the same vows on Sunday.

The Bakers, who have lived in Franklin Avenue, Tadley most of their married life in Stanley's childhood home, have two children and two grandchildren.

Since her retirement in 1985 as a laboratory worker at AWE, Doreen, 69, is busier than ever.

She is secretary of the British Legion in Tadley, a Home from Hospital worker and she reads with the children at Tadley Junior School.

Stanley, 74, is a keen gardener, and together they swim three times a week and take caravanning holidays.

A couple who enjoy each other's company, they agreed that reaching their golden wedding was something of a milestone.

Doreen said: "The main thing is caring—caring about everything, whether you hurt people, and caring about their health."

Stanley added: "If you have a row, say sorry and talk about it. It's all about communication."

Diamond Wedding Anniversary

Celebrating six decades

A TADLEY couple looked as glamorous as they did on their wedding day when they celebrated 60 years of married life.

Stanley and Doreen Baker, of Franklin Avenue, celebrated their diamond wedding anniversary on Boxing Day.

And to mark the occasion, the couple put on their wedding outfits, which, even after many decades, still look as good as new.

Mrs Baker, 79, said: "Even now I think that suit is the best one Stanley's got! The material doesn't show any wear, and it's still in a popular colour – it shows how styles come back into fashion."

The couple met when they both worked for The Ministry of Civil Engineering in Aldermaston, later the Atomic Weapons Establishment.

Mrs Baker said: "Stanley was with his cousin when he saw me with two other girls. Apparently he said to his cousin, 'that's the one I'll marry'."

After a whirlwind romance, which included a first date to Basingstoke cinema, the couple married on Boxing Day in 1946, when Mrs Baker was 19 years old.

The couple have always lived in the Tadley area and have spent the majority of their married life in the same house, which used to belong to 85-year-old Mr Baker's parents.

The Bakers have two children – Ray, 58, and Berry, 53 – and two grandchildren – Corrie, 23, and James, 26.

"I have a lovely family," said Mrs Baker. "They are all my diamonds."

To mark their diamond anniversary, the Bakers had their marriage blessed on Christmas Day at St Mary The Virgin, Burghfield, where they were married.

They also celebrated with a party yesterday at Bishopswood Golf Club in Tadley.

The couple didn't want any presents, and instead asked all the guests at the church blessing to take a single flower, which was made into a bouquet.

"We then took a photograph of the bouquet to remember everyone who came," explained Mrs Baker.

She said that the secret to a long and happy marriage was down to being "We instead of I".

She said: "My husband and I both made our vows and we have stuck by them. It is also down to saying 'I love you' every day and never going to bed angry."

Obituary
Derrick Ball

Derrick was born in Purton, Wiltshire in 1918. He grew up with his mother and one older brother. As a child he spent time on his uncle's farm and helped with the horses.

After leaving school Derrick worked as a stonemason's apprentice for several years. He decided to volunteer with the RAF and became an apprentice electrician, and part of the ground crew for bomber operations. He eventually worked on most of the well-known planes such as Lancaster, Wellington and Hampden.

After the war and demobilisation, Derrick continued in the aircraft industry, working first for Vickers Weybridge, then BOAC at Aldermaston Airfield. When this came to an end in the early 1950's, he started at the AWRE. Here he was involved in preparing and setting up experiments, being responsible for a particular building and health and safety. He also took part in weather balloon launches during this period.

By now Derrick was living at his cottage Evenley at Axmansford with his wife Sybil. Spare time was spent gardening, travelling widely in Britain and sometimes abroad, and being very involved with Baughurst Parish Council for 29 years. During that time he saw the village change from a rural straggle of cottages to an expanding community. At the same time he also served as chairman for the Basingstoke District Association of Parish Councils and as a committee member for the Hampshire Association of Parish Councils.

Early retirement was forced in 1979 due to a coronary heart attack but a complete recovery was made over time. Sadly his wife Sybil died of cancer in 1984 and in 1987 he married Rachel.

Derrick loved walking the local countryside, especially the woods at Axmansford, where he walked daily when time allowed, with the neighbour's black Labrador. Up until his mid seventies Derrick enjoyed playing a round of golf or a session of snooker with Andrew.

Derrick was a bright and intelligent man who kept a sharp, clear mind right to the end. He grasped scientific and technical theories whilst being a thoroughly practical person. He was a generous and sociable man who could tell an entertaining story in a witty manner. I shall miss seeing his blue eyes sparkle with laughter as he did so. We all love and miss him so much.

Diamond days

JACK and Dorothy Banbury of Carpenter's Close, Sherfield-on-Loddon, celebrated their diamond wedding yesterday.

They were married at St Saviour's Church, Mortimer West End on June 15, 1929.

For the past 16 years they have been enjoying life at their retirement bungalow at Sherfield-on-Loddon, where they are the first tenant and where there is plenty of land for Jack to enjoy gardening.

Before moving to their bungalow they lived at Sawmill Cottage, Tunworth Road, Basingstoke, on the Hackwood Park Estate where Jack was employed for 15 years.

A true countryman, who has always worked in the country, Jack was employed on the Purley, Pangbourne estate by Sir Edward Fielden, captain of the Queen's Flight, before moving to Hackwood.

Born near Kingsclere, Jack spent his young life in the Tadley and Pamber area and it was through working on a farm at Mortimer West End that he met Dorothy.

The field which he was ploughing was next to a cottage where the daughter spotted Jack having his lunch and brought him a cup of tea.

A romance soon blossomed and they were married at Dorothy's village church after a two-year engagement.

● Jack and Dorothy Banbury: celebrating their diamond wedding.

During the Second World War Jack did work of national importance in the saw-mills and in his leisure time served with the Home Guard.

Dorothy was also doing her bit for her country by taking in a family of four evacuees from Portsmouth who stayed with Jack and Dorothy throughout the war.

The youngest member, Margaret, who frequently visits the couple at Sherfield-on-Loddon, still calls them Mum and Dad and will be attending the diamond celebrations.

In her younger days Dorothy, then Miss Cowdry, taught at Mortimer West End School. The school closed in March 1929, barely three months before she was married.

For many years she was a member of the Basingstoke Branch of the Mothers' Union and at Sherfield she has been a member of the WI.

Dorothy said: "At Sherfield we are surrounded by some marvellous young families. During Jack's recent stay at Basingstoke Hospital not once did I have to travel by bus for they worked out a rota to take me backwards and forwards."

The couple have two daughters, Joyce and Marjorie, three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Yesterday it was open house at their Carpenter's Close home. On Sunday there is a family luncheon party at their daughter's home at Martyr Worthy, Winchester.
