Mystery over shop closure

● Sinclair Youngs' branch in Wote Street

Pic by Andrew McCargow

A BASINGSTOKE firm was staying tight-lipped after the shutters came down at its town centre store.

Last week saw the closure of the Sinclair Youngs store in Wote Street, which sold electrical goods.

Yesterday, a sign remained on the front door of the shop.

It read: "Store closed. Please phone 01256 355015 for any enquiries regarding deliveries or goods."

When The Gazette called the number, a member of staff declined to comment on the future of the branch.

The company has two addresses in Basingstoke – the shop in Wote Street and another at the Basingstoke Business Centre, in Winchester Road.

It also has three stores on the Isle of Wight, in Ryde, Shanklin and Newport, respectively.

As The Gazette went to press, the company's website sinclair youngs.com had a message saying "access denied" on its front page.

Company goes into liquidation

A WELL-KNOWN name in Basingstoke business has gone into liquidation.

Sinclair Youngs, the electrical retailer which had a store in Wote Street and a service centre in Winchester Road, went into liquidation last week with a loss of 35 jobs, with 15 going in Basingstoke.

The company also had three branches on the Isle of Wight.

Nigel Fox, a director at Tenon Recovery in Southampton, was appointed liquidator at a creditors' meeting last Monday.

Sadness as shop shuts its doors

Sir.-I am sure I speak for many people when I say how sorry I was to read about the unexpected closure of Sinclair Young's shop in your paper recently.

We and our friends have patronised their shop for many years, both when they were in Church Street and after their move to Wote Street. We have bought many items from them, including white goods and entertainment equipment.

We have always found the staff most obliging and helpful and their after-sales service was excellent.

In these days, when high street electrical shops have all but died out and we are left with only the out-of-town multi-national "outlets", it is sad to see the demise of yet another of our local amenities.

I would like to send my best wishes and thanks to the staff who have served us so well over the years.

Kempshott,

Thatched home with potential

AN attractive detached period cottage with a picturesque thatched roof has come on the market, with what the agents describe as possible development opportunities in the back garden.

The cottage is in Heath End Road, Baughurst, and sits on a half acre plot. There is access to this rear garden from an adjoining crescent of houses, which is why it is thought that there are possibilities here to develop.

Potential purchasers are invited to make their own planning investigations at Basingstoke District Council.

The cottage dates from 1823, and was extended and re-thatched in the early 1970's. There is gas central heating, two bedrooms, bathroom, lounge, separate dining room and kitchen.

There is also a large fully boarded loft area, suitable for use as a playroom or occasional bedroom.

Offers are invited for the cottage and garden, and full details are available from Bentleys, Tadley 3345.

FROM PROPERTY WEEK.

Put on the market by Penny Deacon, niece of the late George Singler. The property was inherited by Penny from George and she has made it her home since his death. The original cottage is on the right of the photograph, with the extension added by Penny.

Named 'CYRIL COTTAGE' by George Singler, probably the name of their only child who died in childhood, when George and Ethel lived in London, where they were from. The cottage sold by Penny Deacon, (whose name was Pamela,) and who then made her home in Spain.

ANDREW SINKINSON AND HAZEL BOWYER (NEE MOSS)

A HONEYMOON in Jamaica followed the wedding of Hazel Bowyer and Andrew Sinkinson at St Mary's Church, Eastrop, Basingstoke.

Hazel is the daughter of Michael and Brenda Moss, of Tadley, and Andrew is the son of Ian and Pam Sinkinson, of Houghton, Cambridgeshire.

Given away by her father, the bride was attended by the groom's sister, Helen Sinkinson. Best man was Alec Measur.

House once owned by Smallbone family

THE appropriately-named Remnants in Streatley, is a house steeped in not only its own history but that of other houses too.

Built by the Smallbone family in the 1920s from building materials taken from other period houses, the property is brimming with unusual features and charm. The Smallbone family went on to become the renowned kitchen designers Smallbone of Devizes and the kitchen in Remnants was the experimental first design as the company was just starting up.

The large hallway with galleried landing has a large stained-glass window, beautiful wooden panelling and a traditional wood-block floor.

There are unusual reclaimed fireplaces in many of the rooms, and there is a bench in the garden pieced together from an impressive stone fire surround. There is also a pretty conservatory reclaimed from an orangery.

Situated in an elevated position, the house benefits from outstanding far-reaching views from both the house and the garden, which has been beautifully designed with York-stone terraces.

There is a heated outdoor swimming pool and a lawn which has been used as a grass tennis court in the past.

A gate to the back of the garden leads on to beautiful open countryside owned by the National Trust.

The property has come to the market through estate agent Lane Fox, Pangbourne. For more information telephone (01189) 845757.

Remnants, Streatley, was once owned by the Smallbone family, the renowned kitchen designers
