

RONALD AND KATHLEEN SOMERVILLE.

RON and Kathleen Somerville, of The Severals, Sherborne St John, are spending a golden weekend, with Monday the 50th anniversary of their wedding at Trinity Church, Oxford Road, Reading.

The family party is to be held at Wimborne, where their daughter Marion and three grandchildren live.

The couple have been at Sherborne St John for the past 10 years and both belong to the Forget-Me-Not club.

Previously they lived at Heath End House, Baughurst, where Ron was caretaker.

It was ill health which made Ron give up his career with the Western Region of British Rail. He was employed in the Signal department at Caversham Road, Reading.

Ron and Kathleen are both Reading born, and during his earlier years there, Ron was a member of the Reading Philanthropic Society.

Lor' love a duck!

TWELVE years ago John Soper's hobby was wine making.

He was good at it too - he was "champion wine maker".

But he wanted a new hobby.

And one day on his way home from his work as a plumber, he found it.

A duck had been run over and was lying in the road, surrounded by her five ducklings.

John managed to catch three of the birds and he took them home where he reared them in his garage under a lamp.

That one incident aroused such an interest in ducks that John and his wife Sylvia sold their house in Basingstoke and moved to their current home in Church Lane, Sherborne St John, where they had plenty of room for John's new hobby - call-duck breeding!

These days John shows his ducks all over the country, from Scotland to Cornwall.

"I have about 100 stock birds which I breed from," he says. "I keep the best ones to show and I sell the youngsters on."

John's prize bird is a 1997 grey call-duck who recently won the title "supreme champion" at the Domestic Waterfowl Clubs Championship Show, and a cup to go with it.

John insists: "She won the cup, not me! She is my champion of champions!"

"Her photograph is in two books, on the web and in the American poultry press!"

John's hobby takes him all over the world. He has been to Canada, the USA, Germany, Holland and Belgium to meet up with fellow duck lovers. And he is now Treasurer of the British Call Duck Club.

So what is the attraction?

"They are such characters," says John. "We call them time wasters because we watch their antics all the time."

"They talk to us and they make us laugh!"

OBITUARY

Michael Speight 1930 - 2007

Health Centre, until his own retirement in 1992.

He prided himself in looking after his own patients personally and there was great sadness when he retired. However, he was a very gregarious person and many of his old patients remained lifelong friends.

He was a marvellous cook and for eight years after retirement provided cooking demonstrations at local ladies' clubs, until an accident in 2000, when his neck was broken, and he was confined to a wheelchair for the last seven years of his life. "Fortunately, he had so many friends that the cottage was always full of visitors and he managed to still have his 'boys lunches' every Thursday until two weeks before he died," said his widow, Sandra Speight. "He was dearly loved by all who knew him and he will leave a great gap in all our lives."

Dr Speight leaves his wife, son Mark, daughter Charlotte, two stepsons Christian and Simon and their families.

FRIENDS, family and former patients have been paying tribute to a popular former Tadley doctor, who cared for the local community for almost half a century.

Michael Speight, of Soke Road, died at the North Hampshire Hospital on Tuesday December 4, and his funeral took place in Thatcham on Wednesday, December 12. Dr Speight was born in 1930, in India, where his father was professor of English at Hyderabad University. He came to England in 1944 and attended St Peter's School, York.

Doctor feared paralysed

THE WIFE of a retired Tadley GP fears her husband may have been left paralysed after a car accident near his Silchester home.

Dr Michael Speight diagnosed his own injuries as he sat trapped in his Audi Coupe after it was involved in a collision with an Astra van at Brimpton cross-roads on the B3051.

His wife Sandra said: "There is just the faintest glimmer of hope that he will regain his movement, but the doctors have prepared me for the worst.

"He has broken his neck. They have operated on his smashed vertebrae at the bottom of his skull but the spinal chord is damaged.

"He is relatively cheerful. He has told me that he can cope with life as a paraplegic because he can rely on me.

"We are a very close couple and have wonderful sons and lots of friends to rely on."

A police spokesman said Dr Speight, of Soke Road, told rescue workers that he could not feel his feet and that he needed an air ambulance to take him to the specialist Stoke Mandeville Hospital spinal injuries unit.

Fire crews worked to cut the retired doctor free of the wreckage following the accident at round 4.20pm on Thursday. The other male driver was treated for shoulder and hand injuries.

The 70-year-old doctor was taken by air ambulance to the Royal Berkshire Hospital in Reading, where his condition was yesterday described as "fairly comfortable". He will be moved to Stoke Mandeville as soon as a bed becomes free.

It is the second time in 10 years that the GP has been involved in an accident at the dangerous crossroads.

Dr Speight, who used to work at the Holmwood Health Centre in Franklin Avenue, is well-known in the Tadley area and has received a steady stream of visitors to his hospital bed.

He is renowned for his vigorous campaigning for better health care facilities in Tadley. Tadley Town Council chairwoman Jo Slimin and borough councillor David Leeks both know Dr Speight and said many people would be thinking of him. Cllr Slimin said: "Dr Speight was my doctor when I first moved here 31 years ago and my son was a baby. He is a lovely man."

Cllr Leeks added: "Dr Speight is held in very high regard by the people of Tadley, who he looked after tirelessly over many years."

DR MICHAEL SPEIGHT

Crash driver recovering

THE retired Tadley GP, who was seriously hurt following an horrific car crash at the notorious Brimpton crossroads on the B3501, is showing signs of recovery.

It is feared that Dr Michael Speight, of Soke Road, Silchester, may be paralysed after his Audi Coupé was involved in a collision with an Astra van at the crossroads.

But his wife, Sandra, believes that her husband is progressing, albeit slowly, following his transfer to the specialist Stoke Mandeville spinal hospital in Buckinghamshire.

Sandra now spends four days a week visiting her 70-year-old husband who suffered acute spinal cord damage in the accident.

She said: "He is now able to spend several hours a day in a wheelchair, which is progression, but it is very early days at the moment."

She added: "He is very cheerful and still getting lots of visitors and wants to thank the emergency services for their actions following the accident as well as everyone in the town who has offered him support."

Tribute to long-serving GP

A TADLEY doctor who cared for patients in the town for almost 50 years has died.

Dr Michael Speight (pictured left), of Soke Road, was born in India in 1930, where his father was professor of English at Hyderabad University. He came to England in 1944 and went to St Peter's School in York.

After studying medicine at St Mary's Hospital in London, and qualifying as a GP, Dr Speight moved to Tadley to join Dr Moorland at his surgery in Silchester Road.

As the population of Tadley grew, following the opening of the Atomic Weapons Establishment, the surgery moved to its present home in Franklin Avenue.

Following the retirement of Dr Moorland, Dr Speight became a senior partner at the Holmwood Health Centre where he took great pride in looking after his patients, making many lifelong friends, until his retirement in 1992.

Described by his wife Sandra as a lover of good wine and a marvellous cook, Dr Speight spent eight years after his retirement providing cooking demonstrations at local ladies' clubs, until a tragic accident, in 2000, when he broke his neck and was left confined to a wheelchair.

Mrs Speight said: "Fortunately he had so many friends that the cottage was always full of visitors and he managed to still have his 'boys' lunches' every Thursday until two weeks before he died." She added: "He was dearly loved by all who knew him and he will leave a great gap in all our lives."

The 77-year-old died at Basingstoke hospital on Tuesday December 4, and his funeral took place in Thatcham on Wednesday December 12.

As well as his wife, he leaves a son Mark and daughter Charlotte, and two stepsons Christian and Simon.

THE SPINNAKER TOWER, PORTSMOUTH

Defending the Spinnaker

A DIRECTOR of an international consultancy headquartered in Basingstoke has hit back against an article about the Spinnaker Tower in the national press, which stated: "It's tall but it's pointless."

Dr John Tubman, director of structures and advanced technology at Scott Wilson, on Basing View, described Tom Dyckhoff's article in The Times as being among one of the most mean spirited and thoroughly negative pieces of architectural criticism recently published. Scott Wilson is the lead consultant for the £30million Spinnaker Tower, which rises 558ft into the skyline of Portsmouth, but was put on the "D-list" of landmark projects in The Times story.

Work is still under way on the controversial tower, which is now due to open this summer.

Dr Tubman said: "Mr Dyckhoff will not have experienced the views from the observation decks at about 110 metres above sea level. I can confirm they are indeed spectacular – arguably unsurpassed by any other observation structure in the UK, with the possible exception of one or two 'cityscape' view decks in London.

"Ultimately, the judges of the Spinnaker Tower's worth as an icon and observation platform will be the residents of, and visitors to, Portsmouth."

Mr Dyckhoff's report also stated:

"At 170m (558ft) high, the Spinnaker only after the preparation of an outline design by both an architect and a world-renowned structural engineering company of tower designers.

"I also know that the people of Portsmouth selected the tower following a design competition.

"Inaccuracies of this nature are a slur on Scott Wilson as well as on the structural engineering profession at large."

● Do you have a view on the Spinnaker Tower? Write to the Editor, The Gazette, Gazette House, Peiton Road, Basingstoke, RG21 6YD or e-mail editor @basingstokegazette.co.uk

SP

"The inference in his article is that Scott Wilson, a civil engineering firm, was the sole designer. I know for a fact that the structural design was by Scott Wilson, a very well respected company employing many chartered structural engineers, but it became involved

In a letter to The Times, he said:

● John Tubman RIGHT: The Spinnaker Tower in Portsmouth pointing down at Portsmouth. It will grace city marketing brochures perfectly."

Bob McKittrick, a past president of the Institution of Structural Engineers, defended Scott Wilson's involvement in the project. In a letter to The Times, he said:
