PAICES WOOD COUNTRY PARK, ALDERMASTON

A GRAND DAY OUT

After weeks of planning, the Grand Opening of Paices Wood Country Park was suddenly only a day away. Final preparations such as sign erecting and flower collecting were all underway. The summer-like weather raised concerns that the good weather that had been ordered had come a day early. By the end of the day, everything was in place and all that could be done was to wait for the day of the Grand Opening.

The morning came and after an early start, all activities were manned by the trusty volunteers, hopefully awaiting the hoards of the general public. But would the people come or would it be a washout? The sunshine arrived in abundance and then cars began to fill the car park. Not a bad start, but would it continue?

Yes indeed it did continue and wow, what a success! Over 500 people attended the Grand Opening - the car park was overflowing! Paices Wood had never been so busy. Visitors tried their hand at the variety of activities that were on offer. Many faces were painted, bat boxes built, bird cakes made, willow woven, wildflowers planted and people even learnt to juggle. Guided walks by John and Derek showed people the many natural features of the Country Park, such as the extensive woodland, the wildlife pond, amphibian area and avenue of lakes. Visitors also had a chance to explore Paices Wood on their own by taking part in a Nature Trail or by simply taking a leisurely walk around the park. A barbecue cooking locally produced burgers and sausages provided the perfect opportunity to have lunch and take a rest next to the lakes. Fishing instruction was also available, as was the chance to have a go at pond dipping to find out what lives in the wildlife pond. A Tawny Owl and Little Owl were on display so that people could learn about the two owl species that live in Paices Wood.

Attendance to the Open Day was far above our expectations, so we were delighted with the event and hope that people will now start to use the Country Park. We even made it on to Meridian News that evening! Huge amounts of thanks to John, Cathy, Derek, Kris, Sam, Tom, Lisa, Alistair, Luke, Karen, Maryanne, Christine, Ken, Tony, Clive, June and the juggling boys, who all helped to make the day such a success - it would not have happened without you. Also many thanks to Robert Young and Brian for helping with the preparations for the day.

If you decide to visit Paices Wood Country Park, please note the opening times of the main gates:

Mon - Fri 7:00am - 6:30pm

Sat 7:30am - 5:00pm

Sundays and Bank Holidays 9:00am - 4:30pm

Christmas Day, Boxing Day, New Years Day - Closed

The gates are automatic so they WILL shut at those times!

More works are planned over the coming years to improve facilities at the site, so watch this space...

TADLEY TODAY, JULY 2005

What the maid saw

IMAGINE being asked to leave home and work for a strange family as a 12-year-old.

Of course, that wouldn't be allowed to happen now, but back in 1894, that was not at all unusual, especially when many people worked in domestic service.

That was the case for Louisa Paice, who came from a large Basingstoke family.

Her family home was at 34 Chapel Street. Now long since demolished, it was roughly in front of the Winterthur Life headquarters, near the railway station.

Little did Louisa know that she would eventually travel the world working in such far-flung places as Switzerland, Japan and Bolivia.

Her memories of life in domestic service can be read in a fascinating pamphlet called Louisa Paice of Basingstoke: "My early life in service", published by her niece Diana Mackarill, who lives in Reading.

Describing her Auntie Lou as "a lovely lady – sweet and charming, sensible and intelligent", Mrs Mackarill said: "I've published the pamphlet because I thought the material was interesting.

"It was the incidental detail that I thought was something I haven't read in other accounts from people in service, and was therefore worth giving to a wider public."

Louisa's first job was working for the Roper family, who lived at Brewery House, on the corner of Brook Street and Chapel Street.

In the pamphlet, she describes the house as "standing off the main road, rather attractive with bay windows and walls covered in ivy kept neatly trimmed".

Today it is the site of The Anvil, on Churchill Way, opposite Chute House.

Louisa also tells of how her duties at her new home were explained.

She said: "I was told I should be required to do light work, such as laying up the table for meals, keeping things tidy, helping to look after the children in the afternoon and, after tea, conducting them to the meadow, keeping an eye on them until bedtime, which in those days meant six o'clock."

Later she moved to work for the Jacksons, who lived at West Ham House, now West Ham Industrial Estate.

On being interviewed for the job as between maid, her employer, Mrs Hardie Jackson, told Louisa that she would have to wait on nursery meals twice a day, carrying trays upstairs with breakfast and lunch for the children and two nurses.

She had to clean the nurseries immediately after breakfast and continue with light housework until midday.

Her condition of employment also meant that she was required to go to nearby St Michael's Church on alternate Sundays, where she would often be required to blow the church organ for an hour-and-a-half.

The position at West Ham House met with approval from her great aunt, who remarked "that to have one's feet under a good table was something to be considered".

It appears that Louisa (pictured above left, aged 25) had a happy time working for the Jacksons, who took her to their new home in London and then on to Oldbury Hall, near Atherstone, in Warwickshire.

In briefly mentioning some details about her aunt's later life, Mrs Mackarill said that her aunt next moved to London to work for the Mills family until 1925, and then took up a post as lady's maid to an ambassadorial family.

It was because of this that she was able to work, at various times, in Switzerland, Tokyo and, later, in Bolivia and Peru.

Mrs Mackarill said: "During these travels, she kept a diary and filled scrapbooks with cards, photographs and press cuttings, including those relating to the social events of the family.

"Among these souvenirs are menus and passenger lists from the Japanese ship that took them from Tokyo to Honolulu, then to America in 1940, just before the outbreak of war in that region."

When Louisa retired in the 1950s she returned to Basingstoke and lived with her sister Amy, before passing away in 1974.

THE MONDAY GAZETTE, JUNE 19TH 2006

LOUISA PAICE

Family had a hand in shaping the town

LAST week, Memories on Monday focused on the pamphlet Louisa Paice of Basingstoke, "My early life in service".

It contains the recollection of a young woman who, back in 1894, worked for the Roper family at Brewery House, at May's Brewery, Basingstoke, where The Anvil now stands.

Miss Paice, who passed away in 1974, could never have imagined how the small quiet market town would transform into the busy commercial hub it is today. Nor could she have imagined that her brother Charles would have played a part in that change.

He was the father of Diana Mackarill, who compiled the fascinating pamphlet.

Mrs Mackarill said: "My father was on the county and town council at the time of the redevelopment of Basingstoke.

"He also served as mayor, so I think he was very much involved in the changes.

"I don't think the older people liked the disappearance of old Basingstoke, but on the other hand, I know my father was keen to provide better housing for all the people in crowded London.

"That's why he was very much in favour of it, though he was quite interested in preserving a bit more of the old town."

Mrs Mackarill's grandfather, Henry Goodall, also had a hand in how the town developed, but that was back in Victorian times.

He set up a building firm in 1875, which is still going strong as Goodall Barnard Builders and Developers.

● Louisa Paice SP

Among his achievements was building Fairfields School, which still dominates Council Road.

But his career as a young bricklayer very nearly came to an abrupt end, as Mrs Mackarill, who lives in Reading, explained.

She said: "My grandfather was involved in a shipwreck in 1873, just off Halifax Harbour, in Nova Scotia, Canada.

"He was among many Basingstoke people on the RMS Atlantic, which belonged to the White Star Line. He had gone with other craftsmen to help rebuild Chicago after the great fire there in 1871."

Mrs Mackarill said her grandfather fortunately survived the ordeal, but many others weren't so lucky.

She added: "He was rescued by a line from a rock to an island and then by local fishermen's boats after many hours."

Mrs Mackarill said that generous local people had clubbed together to provide clothing and buy tools for the craftsmen.

Sadly, it is believed that about 750 people out of 959 on board when the ship left Liverpool perished.

Although reports of the disaster vary, the ship's manifest showed there were 156 women and 189 children on board. All of them drowned except one lucky boy, John Hindley.

Owned by the White Star Line, RMS Atlantic shares the distinction of being the first of its ocean liners to sink, followed 39 years later by the ill-fated Titanic.

CHRISTMAS 2003.

A Christmas comment originating from friends.

I have a list of folks I know- all written in a book,
And every year, when Christmas comes- I go and take a look.
That is when I realise the names are now a part;
Not of the book they're written in - but of my very heart.
So never think that Christmas cards are just a mere routine,
Of names upon a Christmas list forgotten in between.
For when I send a Christmas card that is addressed to you –
It's because you're on a list of folks I am indebted to.

For I am but the total of the many folks I've met,
You happen to be one of those I'd rather not forget.
And whether I have known you for many years or few –
In some way, you have had a part in shaping the things I do.
And every year when Christmas comes – I realise anew,
The best gift life can offer – is meeting folks like you.
So may the spirit of Christmas – that for evermore endures –
Leave its richest blessings in the hearts of you and yours.

Kindest regards from

Lena & Tunay

BASINGSTOKE GAZETTE 8TH JUNE 2001

FROM THE PARISH REGISTERS

Funerals

8th June at St Stephen's Baughurst, funeral and burial of William Albert Pither, aged 77. Will came from Ashford Hill to live at Haughurst Hill when he was 5 years old. After serving in the war he spent most of his working life with various building firms. He lived in the same house for 72 years, looking after his parents in their last years. Will liked his cricket and was a fast bowler for the Baughurst cricket team as well as gardening and helping others in need. Our prayers go to Fred, Florence, Ken and family and friends at this time of loss. May he rest in peace from his brief sufferings now, reunited with his parents.

BAUGHURST PARISH MAGAZINE JULY 2001.

We will miss Will. He used to ride his bicycle along Shyshack Lane on his way to the shops and also used to stay with Fred Gundry if Ray Gundry went out for an afternoon or evening. Will was a quiet, reserved man and we were sad to hear of his death from lung cancer.

Dear Mr + Mrs Stanley,

I see from the H.G.S.
Catalogue of members interests that you list the Pitters of Pamber, to which I enclose a printout of my connection.

I recently visited the area and found various graves to the early Pitter family including a Robert.

I wondered if your research might connect with mine, if so I would be glad to hear from you.

Thanking you in anticipation,

Yours sincerely,

Simon J. Keep.

Dear Mrs Stanley.

Thank you for your letter of the 6th September. My wife and I have been away walking in the Lake District with our Club. Thank you for your concern over these ancestors of mine.

The story is this (to clear the air). My 2 x gt grandfather and his wife are buried in the Old Churchyard of Martinez West End Congregational Chapel. I found the gravestone, in good order and clearly legible, some years ago. With the help of the information on the Stone I was able to trace where they lived at Burghfield and their birth places. His name is Abraham Pitts and his wife Sarah. Her maiden name was Lethwaite and she was born at Shinfield. He was born at Earley. No where, however, can I find their marriage. I have been through all the local parish registers, without luck

Dear Mrs Keep,

I hope this letter reaches you as I do not know the number or name of your house. I visited your Church a little while ago and your name was given to me as one being connected there.

The grave of my great great grandfather and his wife lies in the old part at the back of the Meeting House. As I want to find out more about them could you give me the name and address of the Church Secretary. I think he might know if there are any records anywhere.

I am sorry to trouble, but I hope you can help me. I have enclosed a stamped envelope if you can reply.

Yours Sincerely,

John Pither

FOUR BY TWO: Sue Poole with her husband Perry and the children they thought they would never have

By JOHN COLES

IF Sue Poole had heeded medical opinion, this picture of happiness would never have been taken.

She and husband Perry had been told that terminating two of the quads in the womb would give the other two a better chance of life.

But after five years of trying to start a family they refused to make the heartbreaking decision. And their courage paid off with the healthy arrival of two boys and two girls.

The babies — each weighing in at between three and four pounds — arrived seven weeks early and have now gone home in time for Christmas.

"Someone said that one day this will mean four weddings," Perry joked last night.

"The way we're going I think it will be four weddings and our two funerals."

Scare

After years of failure, legal executive Sue, 33, decided on a one-off attempt at fertility treatment. Against all the odds she soon fell pregnant, and during a scare about an ovarian cyst doctors discovered four heartbeats.

But joy was tempered as doctors strongly advised that two babies would have the best chance.

"We considered it but there was no way we could do it," said Perry, 36. "The doctors stood by our decision and luckily it has paid off.

The couple, from Baughurst, Hampshire, who have been married for 12 years, have named the babies Kieran, Charlotte, Deanna and Gregory.

Perry, a civilian worker for Thames Valley police, said: "We know four little ones are going to be expensive but they are worth their weight in gold."

Mum gives birth to quads

A BAUGHURST woman has given birth to quadruplets.

Suzanne Poole, 33, and her husband Perry, 36, are now looking forward to "four times as much joy" after the special delivery at St George's Hospital, in Tooting. The tiny babies are now recovering in Basingstoke hospital.

Little Kieran Oliver, who is the smallest at exactly 3lb, is still in intensive care. Charlotte Louise, 3lb 15½oz, Gregory Frank, 3lb 13½oz, and Deanna Lucy, 3lb 14½oz, are being monitored in the hospital's special care unit.

Proud mum Suzanne, a legal executive with Reading solicitors, is recovering at home in Portway, Baughurst.

"They're lovely," she said.

"As soon as we found out we were having quads, we were really pleased.

"Although there will be a lot of sleepless nights, there will be a lot of joy too—four times as much."

The quads are the couple's first children—"The first and the last," joked Mrs Poole.

BASINGSTOKE GAZETTE 18/11/1995

POOLE, Perry and Suzanne have great pleasure in announcing the birth of Charlotte, Gregory, Deanna and Kieran on 28. 10.95. Thanks to St Georges Tooting, N.H.H and special care.

Quads back at hospital after catching colds

A SET of prematurely born baby quadruplets from Baughurst have returned to hospital this week after catching colds. Their condition is now stable.

Born on October 28, a month-and-a-half before their due date, the babies were taken to North Hampshire Hospital, Basingstoke by their parents, Mr and Mrs Perry Poole, of Portway, Baughurst, earlier this week.

Kieran, Deanna, Gregory and Charlotte are now being cared for in the Loddon Trust section of the hospital. They were born at St. George's Hospital, Tooting, after Mrs Poole taking fertility pills. The babies currently weigh between four and six pounds.

A site supervisor for Thames Valley police in Sulhamstead, Mr Poole is taking several weeks off work to look after the family.

NEWBURY WEEKLY NEWS 21/12/1995.

Quads finding their fourtunes at school

FOUR sets of uniforms were needed to kit out the Poole quads for their first experience of Burnham Copse Infants School.

Wednesday was their first full day at the Tadley school – but their mum Suzanne said they loved it.

"They had a good introductory programme and they always want to go back," she said.

Mrs Poole, a care assistant, and dad, Perry, a civilian police site supervisor, worked with teachers to decide which children should be put in which class.

Deanna and Gregory are in Mary Andrews' class and Charlotte and Keiran are in Pauline Smith's class.

Mrs Poole, of Portway, Baughurst, said she was pleased the quads, who are looking forward to celebrating their fifth birthdays next month, had settled in to school life so well.

Designers reach new heights

ONE of the most adventurous buildings ever to be designed marks another success story for Scott Wilson, the Basingstoke-based Hampshire Company of the Year.

Scott Wilson, the international consultancy firm based in Basing View, is the lead designer for the Spinnaker Tower in Portsmouth, which rises 170 metres above sea level and will be the tallest publicly-accessible building in the UK outside London.

As John Tubman, Scott Wilson's project director, watched the Spinnaker slowly being lifted into place, he said: "This is a significant moment in the life of the tower.

"The project is unique and has required innovative design solutions and enormous dedication from our design team.

"It will be one of the most exciting structures in the UK and will undoubtedly become one of the icons for structural engineering – not only in the UK but worldwide."

The tower stands on a postage stamp site beside Portsmouth's Gunwharf Quays development and will be a shining white beacon for ferries arriving from the Continent and a welcome home to naval vessels as they enter the historic harbour.

As well as a spectacular waterfront sculpture, the tower (left) will be an observation platform for the public when it is due to open in the late summer.

Mr Tubman said: "We had to ensure, by careful calculation and investigation, that visitors to the three observation decks at about 110 metres above sea level would not feel queasy in response to the inevitable motion of the structure in the wind."

Visitors will reach the observation decks

by an external panorama lift, allowing them to experience 23-mile views over the city, the South Coast and the Isle of Wight.

Mr Tubman (above) added: "We are naturally delighted to have played a pivotal role as structural designer and lead consultant."

The majority of the funding for the tower came from the Millennium Commission and Portsmouth City Council.

As well as being Hampshire Company of the Year, Scott Wilson was a finalist for the Environmental Award category in the 2003 Basingstoke Business Awards.

STEPHEN PRICTOE

Two die in plane crash

A TADLEY man and his girlfriend were killed on Sunday when their light aircraft plummeted 200 feet into a cornfield.

It happened just after they had taken off from an airstrip near Weldon, Northants.

Stephen Prictoe, 31, who lived in Main Road, had flown to a meeting of Pulsar aircraft enthusiasts in Northamptonshire with his girlfriend 30-year-old Kim Stonehouse from Swindon.

The couple set off to fly home shortly after 4pm, but moments after take-off the two-seater plane turned to the right and dropped out of the sky.

Shocked onlookers rushed to the plane, but the couple had been killed on impact.

Eyewitness Alan Gill, a fellow Pulsar enthusiast, said: "The time came for people to go and everyone was watching the take-offs.

"Stephen's plane took off okay. After a few seconds, the plane started to turn. I don't know why, but it just dropped out of the sky and hit the ground," he added.

Air accident investigators have begun their inquiry.

❑ Pulsars are single-engined kit-built planes. The wings fold away to allow the aircraft to be towed behind a car.

BASINGSTOKE GAZETTE, 12/7/1995.

Was said to be the man that bought the Methodist Chapel, Baughurst Road, which has been turned into a dwelling house.

Funerals around Christmas

18th December at St Stephen's, Baughurst and Basingstoke Crematorium, Leslie Charles 'Jack' Prior, aged 86 of Heath End. Jack was a well-know figure around the area. Born at Ewhurst he lived along Hollybush Lane most of his life as a farm worker. He worked at Stratton Manor for a magnificent 66 years with the Brocks, even up until recently, looked after stray cats and always liked to stop and chat to locals. Each week he would visit Basingstoke to shop. Although he never married he will be missed by those who knew him as a kind and very helpful countryman, and often folk saw him clearing ditches locally. His ashes were laid to rest in his parents' grave.
